

BUSINESS & DATA CENTER

Full “Hot Site” amenities in a world class environment.

In 1990 Hedge Funds managed less than $40 billion. Today, that figure is approaching $1 trillion. In the wake of this boom, increased SEC regulations have resulted in new challenges for managers. The need for state-of-the-art technology has never been greater. Whether to navigate through new regulations, guard against a flood of new security risks, or protect your valuable data systems during unforeseen disasters, RFA's data center is a home you can rely on.

More than just a home away from home, RFA'S remote data center with its advanced array of services, fully redundant communications networks and independent power sources, provides unprecedented levels of uptime and peace of mind in the event your primary location becomes inaccessible, or when you desire the services and amenities of a fully secure, state-of-the-art facility.

RFA can provide your firm with all the technology services you could ask for, in a world class, securely managed environment. With flexible Hot Site capabilities such as data replication services, phone, fax, and secure Internet in premium office space within easy reach of NYC, we're where you need us when you need us. ■

Our Hot Site capabilities include:

- Dedicated office space, pre-configured for your use
- Data replication services over VPN to standby servers for file, Email and database needs
- Secure Internet, phone and fax
- Redundant market data solutions
- Office & administrative services
- Power generation systems fully configured for battery/generator operations in the event of a power outage
- Video conferencing
- Large meeting rooms, gym, laundry and restaurant
- World class facilities providing you with a long-term home if displaced

Unaffected by the blackout of 2003, RFA's business center was fully operational, providing clients with back-up options.
