

Richard Fleischman and Associates (RFA) Expands Northeast Operations With New Boston Office

24 September 2008

Richard Fleischman & Associates (RFA), the premier provider of outsourced technology and IT services and the trusted technology advisor to more than 400 firms in the alternative asset space, today announced the expansion into Boston with its new regional headquarters at 125 Summer Street.

This class A office space will be fully staffed and includes RFA's dedicated Boston sales, technical and project teams to support and deliver complete outsourced IT solutions to Boston's key financial firms in the alternative asset space.

For nearly two decades RFA has acted as trusted technology advisor to the most successful firms. RFA understands investor needs for enterprise level technology infrastructure. RFA's dedicated team of more than 140 highly trained professionals deliver the most secure reliable and scalable platforms delivered by the best people in the business.