

Wall Street & Technology

Ex-Merrill Lynch Exec Julian Croxall Moves to RFA

Aug 11, 2008

URL: <http://www.wallstreetandtech.com/showArticle.jhtml?articleID=210002214>

Richard Fleischman Associates (RFA) a provider of technology and IT services and technology advisor to more than 400 hedge funds and private equity firms, named Julian Croxall director of client consulting.

Croxall, an 18-year IT veteran specializing in banking and trading environments, previously held a senior technology management position at Merrill Lynch M Integration in New York, where he directed technology for three multi-billion dollar hedge fund startups and a fund administrator.

Before that, he held several technology management positions across Europe and North America at Credit Suisse First Boston and Morgan Stanley.

In his newly created position at RFA, Croxall will direct the operation of a virtual CTO client consultancy in addition to developing new products and service offerings for the firm's technology and business development teams.

Copyright © 2004/5 CMP Media, LLC | Privacy Statement

